UNIFON is an alternate writing system for the English Language. It is far less complex than English, which makes it a writing system that is at least 10 times easier to learn. There are 40 ways to spell 40 sounds, compared to over 400.

UNIFON sound cards are meant to help students learn this alphabet. Each card has a UNIFON symbol on one side. The other has a picture of an object, which is a hint as to the sound the symbol represents. Students can use them for learning and reference. The cards can help students recognize which symbols are associated with sounds. They also can be an aid in properly forming UNIFON characters.

Printing Directions

This file should be printed double sided. The printed pages then can be cut into fourths. This will produce sound cards with a large UNIFON character on one side. On the other side will be the same character, with a picture and word to help the student identify the sound generated by the symbol.
